

Thank You to the Dog Training Company,

Three years ago, we adopted Josh from The Animal Welfare in Voorhees, NJ. He rounded out our family of dogs to five. Being the youngest and smallest of the bunch, Josh started to show some undesirable behaviors such as barking excessively, jumping, play biting, and stealing. I enrolled him in an 8 week basic obedience class. He did well but he continued to jump, bark excessively at nothing outside, and steal socks. My 5 year old son was becoming terrified of the “jumping bean” Josh who seemed to use him as a springboard. My kids would scream “Josh Alert” whenever he was released from his crate as they ran to safe ground. My husband was ready to find him a new home. The neighbors were complaining about his barking. We knew something else had to be tried if Josh was to stay in our family.

I was introduced to Susan Engel and The Dog Training Company at Bryan Animal Hospital where I am one of the Veterinarians. Their training techniques sounded perfect for Josh and I immediately enrolled him in the 14 day program. During his stay, Ron Noble taught him 7 basic commands: sit, down, come, heel, let’s go(how to walk on a leash nice), quiet, and off. They tell me he was a quick learner.

The change in Josh since he has come home is phenomenal. He is totally a different dog. He responds to my commands with ease as well as the commands from my 7 year old daughter. My son is no longer afraid and I no longer hear the infamous “Josh Alert”. All of my neighbors have complimented me on how quiet Josh has become when he is outside now. He now has become a joy to spend time with, to take for walks, a truly welcomed member in our family.

I highly recommend Susan Engel and Ron Noble’s The Dog Training Company to my clients and to anyone else in need of a trainer. They have a wonderful gift turning unruly dogs into obedient dogs and wonderful companions. Thank you for Josh’s transformation!
