

December 18, 2001

Greenfields Veterinary Associates, L.L.C.
400 Parkville Road
Mantua, New Jersey 08051

Dear Staff,

I am writing to you in the hope that your clinic might recommend to your patrons a training facility for dogs. I have recently taken my Bullmastiff to The Dog Training Company for training. I am absolutely astounded at the transformation! I am so amazed that I want to recommend this company to everyone.

I have tried since my pup was 5 months old to train her using methods developed by a training facility located nearby. We went through the five weeks of basic training in addition to five weeks of 'advanced' training and I was still seeing signs that caused concern. I didn't feel that the training I received was as individual as I would have preferred. My puppy did not show the respect for me that I was told she would at the start of the training.

While I was at the dog park in Pennsauken recently, I noticed and complimented several owners on how well mannered their dogs were. Every owner that I complemented mentioned that they brought their dog to The Dog Training Company for training. I was convinced that I had to give them a try.

The Dog Training Company offers several levels of training and they offer it on-site, away from the owners for a specified duration. I was extremely skeptical about leaving my little girl for what seemed to be an eternity but after speaking with Susan Engel over the telephone, I was no longer concerned.

For twelve days, my little girl received individual, one-on-one training with Ron Nober. Ron was in a word, phenomenal. His training methods were non-violent and did not include shouting or yelling. The training also included playtime with other members. In addition, The Dog Training Company's services include private consultations in your home to help you work with your dog after they come home.

If anyone is looking for a trainer that cares about animals, Ron Nober at the Dog Training Company is the person. It is obvious that Ron loves what he does and the dogs see it also. I will recommend Ron and The Dog Training Company to everyone!

Sincerely,

Eileen