

January 9, 2004

To anyone interested in a well trained, well mannered pet,

I recently had the pleasure of meeting Ron Nober, and want to thank him for taking time from his busy schedule to show me some of his techniques with the remote collar. As a dog trainer, I was impressed not only with his level of knowledge, but also with the incredible efficiency of his methods of training. As a veterinarian, I found his work with the remote collar to be extremely humane. The dogs he trained in my presence picked up desired behaviors quickly and efficiently, and stress levels appeared minimal.

Ron has obviously put a great deal of effort into mastering his chosen profession. I know he regularly attends seminars to keep up to date on the latest developments in remote collar training, and takes great pride in his work. In fact, when I met him at a seminar in the summer of 2003, he was extremely helpful in familiarizing me with his novel approach to using the remote collar. Ron is also a great dog lover, which I believe to be a requirement for anyone in the dog training profession!

Given my experiences with Ron, I would highly recommend the Dog Training Company to anyone interested in swiftly and effectively developing manners and obedience in their dog.

Best regards,

Dr. Lerner

Charles A. Lerner, DVM
Fountain Green Veterinary Center
Bel Air, Maryland