

Dear Dr. Rosenberg and Staff,

We are writing this letter in order to express our sincere gratitude for your recommendation of The Dog Training Company. We brought our labradoodle, Maggie, home in September and did not know what we were in for! She weighed only nine pounds at the time, but we quickly realized that she was going to be a handful...loving and extremely friendly, but hyper and somewhat dominant as well.

We subsequently scheduled three puppy classes with DTC, and Ron came out to show us how to get through the difficult early puppy stages. He taught us everything from play bite corrections to crate training to helping Maggie get over her fear of going down stairs. Most importantly, he helped us put her on a schedule so we could finally all sleep through the night!

As Maggie got older (and bigger), we realized that she would require true obedience training to address issues like jumping, walking correctly on lead, and dominance. In April, we sent Maggie to DTC's eight-day training program. That week, all we could talk about was how amazed we would be if she could just walk appropriately on a leash after the eight days...Well, needless to say, we were beyond amazed at the skills that Ron and Susan taught our Maggie.

Maggie came home a different dog...still loving, friendly and playful, but with much better manners! We are no longer reluctant to have friends and family over. People enjoy being around her now, and she fits right in with the family. We are more and more proud of Maggie each day, and love to show her off!

We highly recommend The Dog Training Company, as they have truly changed all of our lives for the better. Thank you.

Sincerely,
Gary and Amanda
